I have an existing user that has a subdomain defined in his profile (e.g. John.MyDomain.com) which is correctly set in the global wp_usermeta table. However, I have a new user who I would like to have the subdomain with the same value as his username (e.g. John.MyDomain.com). I tried using this code to set the subdomain for the new user but it seems to have no effect: Suser_ID = 1; Susername = 'John'; Suser_ID = wp_update_user(array('ID' => $user_ID, 'user_login' => $username)); Is this even possible? I was thinking the subdomain may have to be registered first - can anyone confirm?
